Post-90s Shine with Goals and Faith ThinkSeries Awards Ceremony 2010

TODAY, (30th April), hundreds of students gathered at the HKFYG Auditorium for the ThinkSeries Awards Ceremony 2010. The two-hour ceremony marked the apex of the ThinkSeries Snapshots, Video and Lyrics Competitions organised by Wiseman Education and partners (please refer to *), effusing the diversity and inspirations of the post-90s generation.

The post-90s spirit infused the ceremony. It convened with the performance of Succeed Band, a band consisting of a group of post-90s students from Tin Shui Wai. Then, the much-anticipated collection of 1,600 words describing the post-90s by the ThinkSeries Leaders online was published in the ceremony. The ceremony was certainly a culmination of this post-90s revolution----- to vindicate the stereotypes of post-90s being “kids” not having faith or vision of one’s own.

The winners expressed their views towards the theme ‘Faith’ through snapshots, videos or lyrics, lots of which comprise of unique revolutionary perspectives. “These post-90s opened up a new dimension of thinking, interacting, and inspiration,” commented Winnie Fung, Project Manager of Wiseman Education. Neither was these works driven by the competition alone.

“The students are not merely motivated by the awards,” as Mr Wong, a teacher of Immanuel Lutheran College, has said. “More important are the lives of others that they have touched upon through making these works.”

At the end of the ceremony, Rosa Lee from St Francis’ Canossian College, Project Manager of ThinkSeries Leader 2010, announced the theme of the ThinkSeries Competitions for next year – Dream. “If faith is the basis for success, then dream will be the guide that leads us to our goals,” said Rosa. “With faith, we come to realise our dream.”

Seeing Post-90s at Different Angles

The post-90s ThinkSeries leaders were very pleased to present the 'Impression of Post-90s' word collection results, in which over 1,600 people have participated. On top of the collection list is "SMART", followed by "GOOD" and "CREATIVE". "LAZY" comes forth in the list, but still the public thinks we are "CLEVER", which comes fifth. The results compose a general image of the post-90s - ---we are not "kids" only, but bright youngsters having our own mind and thoughts. In short, we are more than what we are perceived.
